GEEPLUS INCREASE EXPORT FIGURES TO CHINA

August 2016. For the first time in their history, Geeplus, who have always sourced components and materials from China, are now exporting more than they are importing.

Their exports of voice coil motors have shown a significant increase this year as they are being used in high quality ventilators for the growing Asian medical industry.

Working with their customers, Geeplus have designed and developed components which are exclusive to this market and which are manufactured in their Beckenham, London base manufacturing facility.

Geeplus MD Julian Chapman said: "As we have always looked east for suppliers, it is gratifying that we are now able to satisfy a demanding market with goods made in the UK, to the extent that for the first time ever, we are selling much more than we are buying."
